

I used the practice lab worksheet and extension to work on my ability to code under pressure and produce working code for my assessment. I used the stdio, stdlib, math, and time libraries to create programs that meet the marking criteria. All tasks were completed quickly and yielded correct results